DoL is having a forum on Oct. 6th, i think, for universities on apparel industry labor issues, codes of conduct, and good business practices aimed at their licensing and retail operations. They would like our help with encouraging some important universities to participate. This is also a preview to Gene's idea that we use our relationship with college presidents to see if we can get them to participate in the association to be created out of the apparel industry partnership, which we hope will be ready to announce about then.

I asked Dol to get us a set of talking points and description of the event and who their target audience is and then will ask you for suggestions how to proceed and who we can call.

Thanks.
