Dear Tom:

Thanks so much for your thoughtful note. It was good to hear from you.

I appreciate your words of support regarding the Northern Ireland peace accord. I was glad to help in whatever ways I could and will continue to be available. Senator Mitchell and Prime Ministers Ahern and Blair have been wonderful leaders in this effort, and they deserve our gratitude.

Thank you again for writing.

Sincerely,

Dear Nancy -

Tamara Ewright suggested that if I sent this to you, you might be able to see that it gets to the President.

I feel very strongly that he pushed so much and worked so hard for the Northern Ireland agreement
we need to know how much it's appreciated.

Many thanks -

Tom Donahue

Mr. President —

Don't be so modest! —

Without your willingness to support John Hume, and to risk so much on Garry Adams, we wouldn't have had a peace process worthy of the name.

Without your strong backing of George Mitchell from the beginning to the end that process would have failed.

It was you who inspired the people of Northern Ireland to hope -- and through that hope to show the path they wanted their negotiators to follow.

You've earned the gratitude of every Irish-American and the people of Northern Ireland are forever in your debt.
