Dear Robert:

Thank you so much for your kind letter about the Northern Ireland peace accord.

Senator Mitchell and Prime Ministers Ahern and Blair have been wonderful leaders in this effort, and they all deserve our gratitude. Although the path to peace is rarely easy, I believe that this agreement has the potential to bring real calm and mutual respect to a beautiful but very troubled part of our world. I was glad to help in whatever ways I could, and I will continue to be available.

Again, thank you for your encouragement.

Sincerely,

BILL CLINTON A

Dear President Clinton,

I am writing to thank you for the pivotal role you played in being the catalyst which finally facilitated a peace settlement among the parties in Northern Ireland. In all honesty Mr. President, if you did not take the courageous actions you did by inviting Gerry Adams to this country in 1994, and all of the subsequent steps the parties would still be trying to solve their differences with the bomb and the bullet.

You set the tone. People in your administration followed your lead and found positive reasons to move ahead instead of viewing the situation negatively as some people did. I am thinking specifically of Bruce Morrison, Tony Lake, Nancy Soderberg, Mary Ann Peters, Sandy Berger, Jim Steinberg, Larry Butler and others.

I'm fully cognizant of the difficult times ahead but the important thing is that we have turned the corner. Rest assured that we in the Irish American Unity Foundation will do everything possible to help facilitate the success of the peace settlement.

Those of us in the Irish American community who have tried to promote peace and justice in Ireland for so many years will be eternally grateful to you. Thank you again Mr. President.

Sincerely,

Robert C. Linnon
